Bills introduced in the Council of the Governor of Fort St. George assembled for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations.

The following Bills which have been introduced in the Madras Legislative Council are published, together with the Statements of Objects and Reasons, under rule 20 of the Madras Legislative Council Rules:—

BILL No. 21 OF 1934.

A Bill further to amend the Madras Motor Vehicles Taxation Act, 1931.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras Motor Vehicles Taxation Act, 1931, for the purposes hereinafter appearing; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Madras Motor Vehicles Taxation (Amendment) Act, 1934.

2. In Schedule II of the Madras Motor Vehicles Taxation Act, 1931, for item 4 (b) substitute the following:—

	Maximum quarterly tax.
	For vehicles fitted with passenger seats.	For other vehicles.
	Rs.	Rs.
" 4 (b) Vehicles licensed under the Madras Motor Vehicles Act, 1915, to carry more than four passengers— —For every passenger (including the conductor and the driver of the vehicle) —     ..     "	15	15 "

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to minimise the difficulty experienced by the bus owners in the matter of payment of quarterly tax for the seats reserved for the driver and the conductor of the vehicle. The tax levied on these two non-earning seats works a great hardship. In Mr. Bailey's Bill to amend the Madras District Municipalities Act, 1920, and the Madras Local Boards Act, 1920, which has since been enacted into law, the licence fees for the seats of the driver and the conductor of a motor vehicle carrying passengers for hire have been excluded. It is but fair that the terminal tax on these two seats also should be done away with. This Bill only endeavours to remedy this defect.

BILL No. 22 OF 1931.

A Bill to amend the Madras Village Courts Act, 1889, for a certain purpose.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Madras Village Courts Act, 1889, for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

AND WHEREAS the previous sanction of the Governor-General has been obtained to the passing of this Act;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Madras Village Courts (Amendment) Act of 1931.

2. After clause 3 of section 9 of the Madras Village Courts Act, 1933, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that when the minorities such as Adi-Dravidas and Indian Christians have not secured any seats in the Panchayat Court through election, the District Collector shall nominate a member from each of the communities."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Village Panchayat Court is the lowest and extremest civil and criminal jurisdiction in the villages. The Panchayat Courts constituted in the villages under the Act have been the monopoly of the higher castes of the villages. The conditions obtaining in the villages are unfavourable for the minority communities, namely, Adi-Dravidas, and Indian Christians who find it very difficult and sometimes impossible to return the candidates through election. There is no provision in the present Act which enables them to get into the Panchayat Court except through election. The present Bill seeks to rectify this defect. It is therefore desirable and expedient that the Village Courts Act should be so amended as to enable the helpless minorities to secure representation in the Panchayat Courts.

Provided that the Board shall not be entitled to transfer any wakf property of which the Board takes possession under section 50 except to a person appointed under section 51 to administer the wakf.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The dissatisfaction with the present management and control of Muslim religious and charitable endowments in this Presidency is widespread and long-standing. It is generally agreed that the provisions of the Religious Endowments Act XX of 1922 and the Muslim Wakf Act of 1923 have been very inadequate to check the misadministration and misuse of the trust properties and that the present conditions of these institutions is largely due to the absence of any effective machinery to prevent such misadministration cannot be denied. The working of Act XX of 1922 has not been satisfactory nor has it proved any success on account of the very many defects in the said Act. There is no provision in it for the exercise of supervision over the large and important class of endowments referred to in section 4 of the said Act. The system of suits by private parties interested is costly and has proved inadequate to guard against dishonesty on the part of trustees and trustees. The powers and functions of endowment committees are not defined with sufficient precision and the persons holding them are so meagre that they could neither discharge their duties nor enforce their orders effectively. Members of committees were appointed for life and when vacancies arose, they have been never filled up, and in many cases the Government staff, despite its efficient administrative machinery is not in a position to give any information even as to their existence or non-existence, not to speak of their functioning as such. The Muslim Wakf Act of 1923 with its provisions for periodical audit of accounts and furnishing the same to the District Court has not improved matters to any appreciable extent. That Act, again, has very many defects in it, in spite of the penal provisions therein, which have never been enforced. It is therefore necessary that these and other defects should be remedied by means of a well conceived and comprehensive legislation dealing with the whole subject of Muslim Religious Endowments in this Presidency.

The main object of the present Bill is to ensure the efficient administration and control of Mexican religious and charitable endowments in this Presidency; and at this late hour in the day, there need be no explanation as to why, if at all, the principle of strict religious neutrality of the Executive Government embodied in Act XX of 1828 is departed from in some of the provisions of the present Bill. Suffice it to say that it has been done merely with a view to secure only the efficient administration of the Wakfs. The Bill aims at efficient and effective control over all classes of Mexican public religious and charitable endowments though those situated in the city are excluded therefrom.

The Bill provides for a regularly constituted Wakf Board and circle committees to supervise and control the management of the public religious endowments. The members of the Board and committees will all be nominated or appointed by Government, and their term of office has been limited to three years. Provision has been made for the maintenance of proper registers of the endowments and also for the preparation and maintenance of a record of the origin, and history of the endowments committed to the care of the Board and committees. The President of the Board and members of the circle committees and officers appointed by Government are invested with powers to inspect the movable and immovable properties belonging to and all records, etc., connected with the management of the religious endowments. Specific provision has been made for the levy of contribution from such wakfs for meeting the expenses of the Board and the committees and the establishment thereunder as the Government is very reluctant to incur any expenditure on this account. Provision has also been made for the proper keeping and auditing of accounts of the Board, the committees and the endowments and for exercising proper control over the expenditure in connection with the endowments and the establishments maintained. Specific provision has also been made for the diversion of the surplus funds of religious endowments for public utility consistent with the Mexican ideas of charity and piety and the objects of the wakf. The power of diversion is vested in the Wakf Board and the principles in ordering such diversion will be the same as observed by Courts in applying the "excess" doctrine. During past years some schemes have been settled by Courts here and there for the administration of specific wakfs, which have not proved satisfactory. It is felt in many quarters that administration under some of these schemes is worse than administration under the Act of 1828. The Bill provides for testing these schemes as those settled under this enactment and for the alteration or modification of the same whenever necessary and desirable. Long-established customs and rights and hereditary rights of trustees or mutawallis are sufficiently safeguarded, consistent with the proper administration of the wakfs and specific provision is also made to prevent Executive Government from interfering with the Madras public religious and charitable endowments except in the manner approved by this law.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is widespread dissatisfaction with the management and control of the maths in the Presidency and opinion is practically unanimous that owing to the inadequacy of the provisions of the Madras Hindu Religious Endowments Act, 1926, (Madras Act II of 1927), no improvement has been effected in the administration of maths though the Act has been in force for nearly a decade now.

3. The principal defects in the working of the Act of 1926 in respect of the maths are—

(1) There is no provision in it for the proper administration of the secular affairs of a math. The matadgachhi being a religious head often without any experience or training in the management of estates or institutions and having various religious functions and duties to attend to from day to day is unable to devote much time to the management of the vast properties of the math, the proper application of the income thereof and to the various duties incidental thereto such as maintenance of proper accounts, control of estates, etc. The need for an efficient authority to be in complete charge of the secular affairs of the math is keenly felt.

(2) The disciples of a math who are persons having interest therein have now no voice in the regular administration of the math or even a right to be consulted. This has caused dissatisfaction in the large body of disciples of the various maths.

(3) The provision for audit of the accounts of the math is defective. At present the Board is expected to provide for the cost of auditing the accounts of the maths but owing to the inadequacy of its funds to meet this charge, the Board has not been able to
